

PT5375 Personal Sanctification

Fall 2023

Michael Allen

Note that class meets on Friday, September 15 and Saturday, September 16.

Course Description

This course examines the doctrine of sanctification in reformed theological perspective. We will examine biblical themes, theological formulation, and contemporary understanding with an eye toward pursuing holiness within the students' lives.

Course Objectives

1. To help the student gain an understanding of the biblical doctrine of sanctification.
2. To grow in appreciation of our gracious Father renewing His people in the image of His Son through the power of the Holy Spirit.
3. To grasp the importance of pursuing holiness for Christian discipleship and ministry.
4. To gain resources for cultivating growth in the Christian life.

Feel free to contact me whenever needed (preferably via email or a conversation in person). If you have questions about class protocols and expectations or about the content of your readings, please email early and inquire. Better yet, come by my office and talk in person.

The Textbooks

1. John Calvin, A Little Book on the Christian Life (Sanford, FL: Reformation Trust, 2017).
2. John Webster, Holiness (Grand Rapids: Eerdmans, 2003).
3. Thomas Watson, The Lord's Prayer (Edinburgh: Banner of Truth Trust, 1960).

4. James K. A. Smith, You Are What You Love: The Spiritual Power of Habit (Grand Rapids: Brazos, 2016).

The Requirements

1. Read.

Reading must be thoughtful and engaged. Read the entirety of the assigned texts.

Theology is an activity done largely through the process of good reading. Read carefully. Read charitably. Read with others. Read with the expectation that you will learn from others, even when you disagree with their main point. Read even when a text is dense and difficult, for you will learn perseverance and fortitude here. Read that which seems trite and obvious, asking how others might object or criticize. Most importantly, read because God was willing to reveal himself in written words, and because we can best witness to God's grace with corresponding words. Read because words matter in God's economy of grace.

You will submit a reading report on Canvas that notes how much you read of each book.

Read the short books by Calvin and Webster prior to class. The two other, longer readings can be done in the following two months. Report of all reading due by 11:00 p.m. on Saturday, November 11.

2. Attend.

Please attend and participate actively. Bring your notes, books, and Bibles. Bring writing utensils. Don't try to take down everything that is said; rather, engage and participate actively in lectures, discussions, and exercises.

We will eat together, and we will pray together throughout our time together.

3. Spiritual Discipline Exercise.

You are to pick a spiritual discipline that you have not yet privileged and to attend to it intentionally from our weekend of class through the following four weeks. You are then to report on your commitment to this exercise and to post on its effect upon your life (and, as applicable, to that of your family, friends, and church community). Your report will be a single page post on Canvas that describes what you did, why you did it, how it fit into your daily or weekly rhythm, and to what effect it contributed to your spiritual growth this month.

Examples: praying the hours, practicing Sabbath, fasting, attending Sunday evening worship, leading family worship, practicing Christian hospitality, etc.

Due 11:00 p.m. on Saturday, October 21.

4. Reflective Paper.

You will write a concluding paper that offers personal reflections prompted by the reading of Thomas Watson's The Lord's Prayer and James K. A. Smith's You Are What You Love. It has two parts. First, learning from Watson, what particular prayer or petition in the Lord's Prayer do you need to make your own and how has this study of the Lord's Prayer helped you understand it? Second, drawing on the analysis of Smith, what is an anti-habit that you can observe having formative significance in your own life and what is its mal-formative significance? In making this reflective account autobiographically, make sure to employ scripture and the two texts to help you convey your thoughts. You should write 1000-1500 words total (addressing both prompts within that word count).

Due December 6 by 11:00 a.m.

Grading Structure

Grades will be assessed as follows:

Reading	1/3
Reflective Paper	1/3

The grading scale can be found in the Academic Catalog. As laid out in the catalog, a "B" is the work normally expected of a student. An "A" is given for someone who consistently outperforms expectations, and a "C" is given for persons who only minimally and occasionally meet expectations. Read the Academic Catalog to see what grades reflect.

Technology Policy (Modified from Dr. Alan Jacobs of Baylor University)

Computers, tablets, and smart-phones are not allowed in class. Think I'm over-reacting? Think you're a master of multitasking? You are not. No, I really mean it. Notes taken by hand are almost always more useful than typed notes, because more thoughtful selectivity goes into them; plus there are multiple cognitive benefits to writing by hand. And people who use laptops in class see their grades decline — and even contribute to lowering the grades of other people.

Class Schedule

We will meet on Friday, September 15 and Saturday, September 16.

Friday – Class Begins at 4:00 p.m.

The major theme of our first day will be a theological vision of sanctification as a divine gift of the gospel that is wrought in us by the transforming presence of the Triune God and also a Christian calling that involves discipline, duty, and habits.
