

REFORMED THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY, WASHINGTON, DC

06PT6107/01: WOMEN'S TEACHING LAB II (2 CREDITS) - SPRING 2026

NANA DOLCE - NDOLCE@RTS.EDU

SCHEDULE

Thursday, 7:00-10:00 p.m., Feb. 5–Apr. 16, 2026 (No class Mar. 12)

COURSE DESCRIPTION

RTS Washington, D.C., seeks to equip women to know and make known the Word of God for the variety of contexts in which they have opportunity to lead others in studying Scripture. Women's Teaching Labs I (fall) and II (spring) are designed to help women acquire specific skills for teaching the Bible. All women at RTS-Washington, D.C., are encouraged to take these lab courses to grow in their teaching skills, regardless of their specific degree or certificate program. Auditors are also welcome.

Each of these labs is 2 credit hours and will count toward the M.Div. communications lab. Preaching Lab requirement (4 credit hours total; in lieu of the traditional Communications labs, Preaching Labs I and II). Women pursuing an M.Div. degree should plan to take Communications I and II lecture (non-lab) courses in addition to Women's Teaching Labs I and II to meet their degree requirements. The Women's Teaching Labs I and II will also count toward elective requirements in other degree programs.

Women's Teaching Lab II equips women to write and lead Bible study small groups and teach devotionally. Passages will be selected from the New Testament. Instructors will include resident faculty as well as experienced Bible teacher Nana Dolce. Taking Teaching Lab I first is encouraged but not required.

ASSIGNMENTS & GRADING

This course is focused on practical teaching skills and will rely heavily on in-class participation in exercises, presentations, and feedback discussions. Assignments outside of class will emphasize preparation for presentations, along with a small amount of reading.
